

Dallas Texans International Girls Cup Home Stay Program Contract:

Signed by International Team

The most rewarding experience of every Dallas Texans International Girls Cup is the Home Stay Program. Visiting international team players are hosted by local Dallas soccer families. To maximize the enjoyment of this experience by both the international players and the Dallas host families, it is required that both parties sign a Home Stay Program Contract.

The Home Stay Program for international teams is limited to 18 youth players. All remaining members of the traveling party are required to make their own arrangements for room and board and are responsible for all costs involved. Hotel reservations for all adult members of the delegations (staff and supporters) must be made at one of the designated Dallas Texans International Girls Cup hotels.

The Home Stay Program for international teams may not exceed 8 nights unless otherwise agreed. Players may not begin their stay any earlier than the Sunday (April 2nd, 2023) prior to the tournament week and must end their stay the Monday morning (April 10th, 2023) following the conclusion of the tournament. The Home Stay includes sleeping accommodations and two meals per day for each player. Sleeping accommodations may be arranged such that two players share one full- or queen-sized bed.

Host families will arrange airport transfers as well as ground transportation during the stay (including an excursion Tuesday and possibly Monday).

International teams selected for the Home Stay Program are responsible for cost of all entertainment activities, lunches during the week, and any cost for unauthorized long-distance phone calls made by players and coaches, even if said cost is discovered after the players have departed Dallas.

International Home Stay teams are required to provide (as a condition of acceptance to the tournament) a Player Liability/Medical/Media Release & Indemnity Agreement form for every player. The international team coach/manager accepts all financial responsibility for medical treatment of housed players injured during the tournament.

International Home Stay teams are required to provide the name of an English-speaking contact, email address, and a 24-hour phone number, for necessary communication with the host team beginning four (4) weeks prior to arrival in Dallas. To arrange appropriate accommodations for the players, there will be frequent communication between the teams. Response to any communication within 24 hours is expected and appreciated.

Dallas Texans International Girls Cup Home Stay Program Contract:

Signed by Hosting (Dallas) Team

The host team is responsible for international players each day. The host team will accommodate a minimum of two players per host family.

The host team is required to provide at least two meals daily (if possible, please provide the girls a box lunch each day as well), sleeping arrangements for each international guest, and ground transportation including to and from the airport and for daily team activities. A proper bed is preferred for each player, but players can also share beds and use other sleeping arrangements if necessary.

The host team is required as well to provide transportation to and from the international team's point of arrival/departure in Dallas (i.e., airport, bus station, train station, etc.).

All adult members of the host team (18 years and older) that are directly involved with the Home Stay Program are required to complete the Criminal Background History Check (done through JDP) process when requested by the Dallas Texans International Girls Cup office.
